"The essence of what excellence in leadership looks like."

—John Toussaint, CEO, Catalysis, author of On the Mend

JEFF THOMPSON, MD, is executive advisor and chief executive officer emeritus at Gundersen Health System, pediatrician, author, and speaker on building a mission driven culture as a values-based leader.

Jeff's experience in leadership is far-reaching, having led diverse teams, projects, and divisions, before holding multiple senior executive roles, including fourteen years as a CEO responsible for a staff of seven thousand, hundreds of thousands of patients, and a billion dollars of the community's money within the Gundersen Health System. His long experience as intensive care pediatrician and senior executive has shown him over and over again how leading from one's values has the power to compete successfully while affecting long-term meaningful change.

He has been consistently recognized for improving quality, lowering costs, and serving the community by achieving best outcomes in both health care and environmental stewardship.

MOST REQUESTED KEYNOTES

Business today is up against a myriad of complexities. The pressure to do more with less, and faster, is never ending. In this context, leaders are frequently required to make pivotal decisions for the organization that define them as leaders. Faced with these challenges, each of us must decide if we will follow short-term pressures for gain or lead for the long-term good of everyone whose lives we touch.

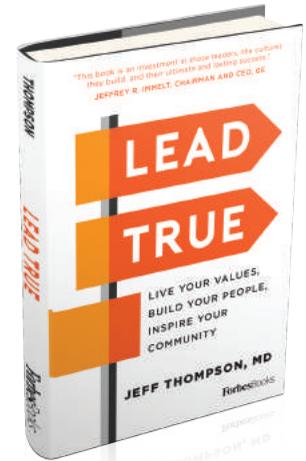

Lead True: Live Your Values, Transform Your Culture, Achieve Your Mission

In this keynote, Dr. Thompson shows leaders that values based leadership is not just a noble idea, but a strategy for lasting success and offers a 3-part framework from which to approach decision making. His framework gives the leaders the courage, inspiration, and inner confidence to lead -not driven by short-term pressure or gain- but for the long-term good of their people, organization, and community.
